MKS Instruments Makes a Voluntary $50 Million Prepayment on its Term Loan

ANDOVER, Mass., July 11, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- MKS Instruments, Inc. (NASDAQ:MKSI), a global provider of technologies that enable advanced processes and improve productivity, today made a $50 million voluntary principal prepayment on its term loan. This prepayment is in addition to a scheduled principal payment of $1.6 million, and reduces the outstanding principal amount of the term loan to $523 million as of July 11, 2017, down from $780 million at origination.

"In just over a year since loan origination, we have made five voluntary prepayments totaling $250 million and coupled with the scheduled payments and 3 repricings, we have reduced our annualized non-GAAP interest expense by 50%, demonstrating our continued focus on deleveraging our balance sheet and reducing our cost of capital," said Seth H. Bagshaw, Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer.

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measure

MKS' management believes the presentation of this non-GAAP financial measure is useful to investors for comparing prior periods and analyzing ongoing business trends and financial results. Annualized GAAP interest expense based upon $780 million principal outstanding and using the LIBOR based interest rate spread in effect on April 29, 2016, was $44 million. Annualized GAAP interest expense based upon $523 million in principal currently outstanding and LIBOR plus 225 basis points would be $24 million.
